Walls of glass and soaring architectural ceilings frame unobstructed views of Lake Dornoch and CCNC's Dogwood Course, creating a light-filled, private retreat where water and fairway meet in a setting that is simply unmatched. Flawless in its execution and entirely one of a kind, this estate offers a rare lifestyle opportunity defined by craftsmanship, privacy, and prestige within the gates of The Country Club of North Carolina. Located just minutes from the Village of Pinehurst, known as the Home of American Golf, this sprawling residence, set on approximately 3.3 picturesque acres, offers something exceptionally rare: dual frontage on both Lake Dornoch and the 11th hole of the celebrated Dogwood Course. A winding, wooded drive lined with towering pines, azaleas, and dogwoods, creates a sense of arrival that feels both private and grand. The expansive backyard unfolds into sweeping views of the water and manicured fairways, creating a living panorama that shifts beautifully with every season. From nearly every room, the scenery reinforces that this is not simply a home, but a true sanctuary. Interior spaces were professionally designed by Brown Design Group of Boca Raton, resulting in a cohesive, elevated aesthetic where every detail has been thoughtfully curated.
